PROFILE

The person behind the ads you see on Instagram and Google for brands like Ray-Ban, Forever New, Aldo, Onitsuka Tiger, and Vero Moda. Six years sitting at the intersection of creative strategy, commercial planning, and client advisory across India, UAE, and the UK, consistently the youngest manager in the room and usually managing people older than her. Known for challenging briefs that do not make commercial sense, owning revenue targets end to end, and when something works, immediately asking why it did not work sooner. Currently finishing an MBA at Bath on a merit scholarship while running live consulting, entrepreneurship, and social impact projects simultaneously.

KEY ACHIEVEMENTS

- 3x revenue, no discounts: Scaled FITTR from £11K to £35K MRR by restructuring campaign architecture and building a new commercial offer framework. The brand now does £90K+ MRR.
- Talked a client out of a bad decision: Advised Da Milano against a flawed tier-1 expansion. Built the research case, presented it, they changed direction. Budget protected.
- Youngest manager, every time: Consistently the youngest manager across every company, managing teams of people older than her across concurrent global brand accounts.

Selected client work
